

VOICES FROM RAVENSBRÜCK

Towards a multilingual collection of oral history interviews with survivors of camp Ravensbrück

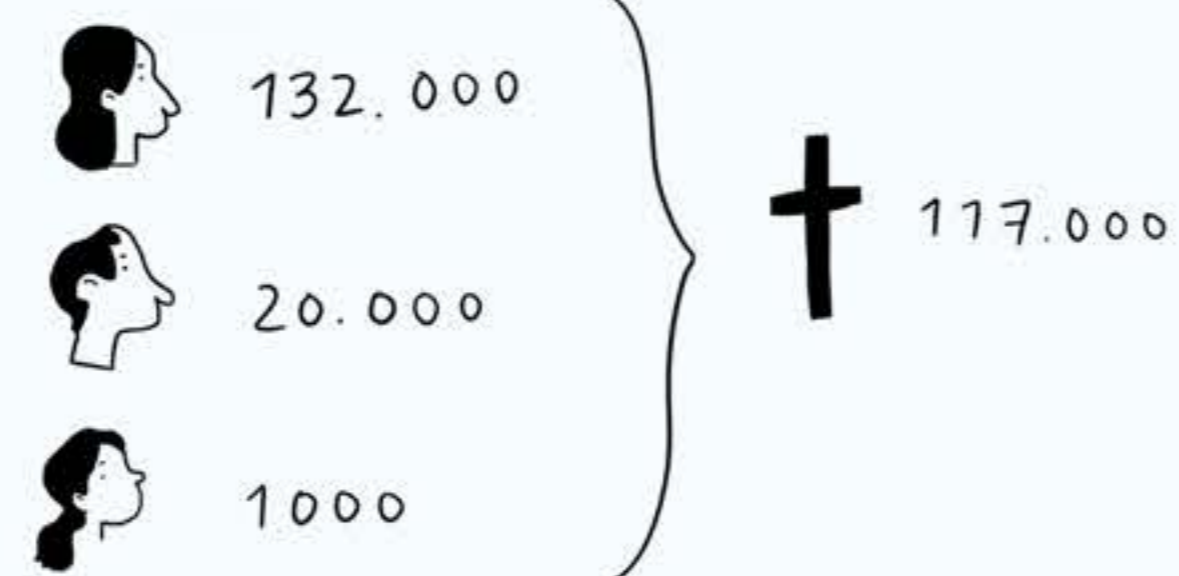

1939

The women in camp Ravensbrück were members of the resistance, had helped people to hide, had socialist and communist ideals, were prisoners of war, Jehova witnesses, Jews, Roma, homosexuals, petty criminals, sex workers.

1939 - 1945

30 - 4 - 1945

1961

1970s - 1990s

As this group of contemporary witnesses around the world grew older and gradually passed away, the need was felt in several countries to preserve their personal stories through oral history interviews.

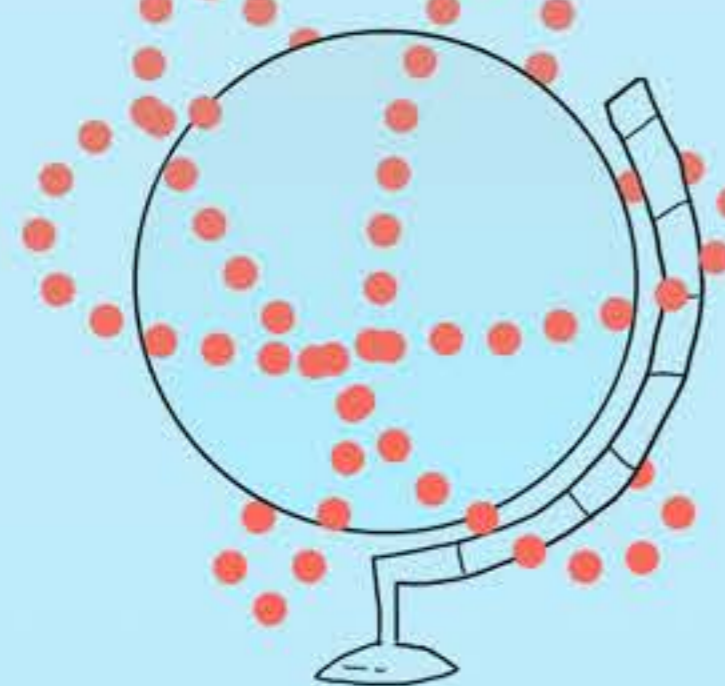

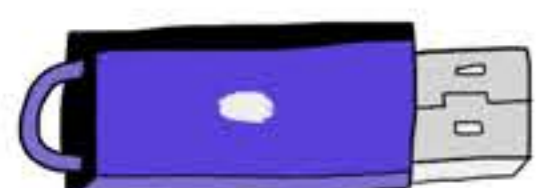

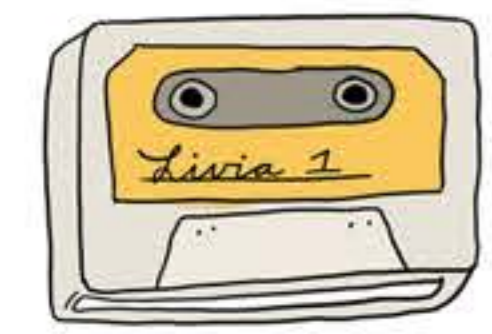

How can we preserve their stories?

2022

The goal of the Oral History CLARIN Resource Family 'Voices from Ravensbrück' is to bring stories together that were captured in different places in different languages enabling scholars to study and compare silences, laughter, narrative styles, interview styles, oral history projects, the language of camps, collective memory, gender, translation, socio-linguistics, trauma.
